Re: In the Matter of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

It's 2018 and the USA still has one of the slowest average connection speed for a developed country. I live in San Francisco and there are only two major ISPs that provide speeds greater than 25 MBps, and the prices are ridiculously high. I'm grateful to have Sonic ISP available, and they are spending their own money to build fiber in the Bay Area. The big ISPs sure aren't stepping up to roll out fiber- they're happy to leave US citizens stuck on telephone copper lines and cable tv lines. Please support competition in the ISP marketplace and maybe connection speeds in the USA will stop being such a joke.
